

Response statement addressing the upload of the revised manuscript:

We are a little confused about the process. We had previously responded to the reviewers and were told not to submit a revised manuscript at that time. We were then later told to submit a revised manuscript, but there was no additional feedback from the reviewers, so we can only assume that they were satisfied with our response. As we upload the revised manuscript, the web page asks us to submit a response as well, which we do with this statement.

Please let us know if we did anything wrong here.

Best regards – Jimmy Raeder. (jraeder9@gmail.com)